

LAXATINE.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS bought has borne the signature of the Western Chemical Co. of Chicago, Ill., for years. Allow no one to deceive you with counterfeits. Imitations and "just as goods" are but experiments, and endanger the health of children.

What is Laxatine?

LAXATINE IS NOTHING BUT THE FINEST CASTOR OIL, with its objectionable taste removed by our new process. LAXATINE is as pleasant to take as honey. Children like it. No trouble to get them to take it. It contains neither opium, morphine, nor other narcotic substances. It relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency; it assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.—The Children's Panacea—the Mothers' Friend.

WHO IS STODDARD?

Churchill Lost Heavily on Dole Ministry.

And Has Appropriated $200,000 to Start a Newspaper To Get Even With Them.

Several people from Haywards would like to meet Edward P. Stoddard, who credited himself with being the son of a wealthy plantation owner in Hawaii, says a late Call. A few months ago Mr. Stoddard took up his quarters at the Haywards Hotel. He made many friends by his pleasant manners and the ease with which he talked of his father's vast wealth. A few days ago Mr. Stoddard left Haywards and several people would now like to meet him. He is credited with always paying his debts and so far as is known left no unpaid loans behind him. But he was possessed of a mania for engaging people to go and work in the Islands for fancy salaries, at the same time promising his glibly acquaintances that the hardest work would be to draw their salaries.

Manuel Simas is a barber of Haywards. He was honored with the privilege of shaving the wealthy young Stoddard. Finally Mr. Stoddard confided to his barber that he was looking out for a good man to go down to the Islands. He would pay $75 a month, give board and lodging, while the oily services to be performed would be to shave his uncle, trim his aunt's hair and occasionally run a mower over his uncle's lawn. Simas thought this was a great deal better than shaving for a precarious income at Haywards, so he accepted the offer and invested quite a little sum in purchasing the necessary apparel to enable him to become chief lawn-mower and hairdresser to Stoddard's uncle and aunt. Simas was to go to Honolulu by the steamer which sailed on the 10th inst., but on that date Mr. Stoddard was not on hand, although Mr. Simas had vacated his job and packed his valise.

Stoddard also announced that it was his intention to go to the Islands in the interests of a plantation owner named Churchill and establish a newspaper in Honolulu which should be rabidly royalist. "There is a little purpose in this scheme of ours," said Stoddard. "Mr. Churchill lost heavily when the Dole Ministry took office, and he has appropriated $200,000 for this newspaper enterprise, his sole desire being to get even with those who did him up. The whole thing is in my hands. I will engage a complete staff for all departments and we will all go down to the Island together and teach those people that the loyalist faction is still alive."

With these ideas Mr. Stoddard visited many newspaper men and created the impression that the intention of his principal was to create a revolution in the Islands. Of course, there were plenty of journalists who could create a revolution to order on the salary of about $250 a week, but when they attempted to nail Mr. Stoddard down to facts he made all manner of excuses and promised to return in a few days prepared to make definite offers. One man he spoke to nearly caused him to faint by telling him that before he would proceed any further he (Stoddard) must deposit $1,000 in a local bank as evidence of his good faith. Stoddard never came back, and now everybody is wondering why he should have indulged in such peculiar pastimes.

If Mr. Simas of Haywards could now meet Mr. Stoddard the meeting would not be conducted under Marquis of Queensberry rules.

ADVENTIST BRIG PITCAIRN.
Returns from Its Sixth Trip to the Pacific Groups.

OAKLAND, August 17.—The missionary brig Pitcairn, which left here last January to supply the Adventist missionaries on various islands with provisions, returned today and is anchored in the estuary near the Alameda shore. Only the captain and crew were aboard of the vessel on this trip, the missionaries being all located and the trip having no other object than to supply provisions.

The Pitcairn made stops at the Pitcairn Islands, Cook's Island, the Samoa, the Friendly and the Fiji Islands. On each of these groups of islands the Adventists have missionaries, and the reports of their work brought back by the Pitcairn show encouraging results. "We did not stay long at any of our calling places," said Captain Werge, "as our duty was simply to unload the provisions we had for the missionaries. They all have enough now to last them many months, and the Pitcairn is ready for other work. I do not know what is to be our next trip. We shall wait here until we hear from the National Board of Missionaries in Philadelphia."

The Pitcairn was built with money collected in small coins in the Seventh Day Adventist Sunday schools all over the world. The cost was about $20,000. The work of construction was done in Oakland, and many Oaklanders watch the vessel's career with deep interest. Her crew and other expenses of support are paid for in the same way as the money for building was secured. The trip just finished is the sixth made by the Pitcairn.

Elder E. H. Gates, who is the superintendent of the work, is in Australia at the present time. Elder William Crocker is in New Zealand.
